While working around the Head Center mill a few days since Mr. Rathbun, who has the contract for tearing it down, was working with his son taking out the pump from the well, when the timbers gave way precipitating sire and son about twenty feet below. They grabbed each other as they fell and landed on some cross timbers without sustaining any injuries outside of a few scratches and a first-class case of fright.

WEEKLY MINING REPORT.

A Number of New Mines Becoming Bul- lion Producers.

The Outlook More Encouraging than for Many Months.

Arizona on the Eve of a Great Mining Boom.

A gentleman, at present located in Tombstone inspecting the mines of our district, remarked the other day that he had visited all of the mining camps in New Mexico before coming here, and was surprised to find such a vast amount of virgin ground lying absolutely idle, and said he was at a loss to understand it. The mines of Tombstone district he pronounced much more promising and the ore bodies larger than any camp in New Mexico could show. The recent developments of this district show at least one thing, and that is an extensive area of the richest ground has never been touched with pick or drill.

HERSCHAL.

The owners are working three shifts at present and the shaft is going down at a rapid rate with the assistance of the steam hoist, which is working to the utmost satisfaction. Twenty-five feet was the progress made last week and the shaft is now down to a depth of 85 feet. The first level at the 125-foot will be run and a connection made with the winze from the drift on the 60-foot level. The rich strike in the shaft continues to show up well, although after attaining a width of two feet the ledge was lost. It was found again in a few feet, having jumped to the other side of the shaft. The ore will average $150 to the ton and there is no sign of its diminution.

STERLING SILVER.

This company will shortly employ a large number of men. The Head Center mill has been taken down and about one half of it moved to the new site here. It will be remembered that this mill was, when erected, intended for twenty stamps, but ten of which were ever used. The intention of Mr. Fisher is to erect it in precisely the same manner, and when the necessity arises for the placing of the additional ten stamps it can be done with a small outlay. The contract calls for the completion of the mill by the 4th of May, at which time the dropping of ten stamps upon ore of the Ground Hog and Vizina will be commenced.

On the former mine a large amount of good ore is ready for reduction. The diamond drill will be here in a few weeks and will be operated in the Vizina ground west of the main shaft, where there is a thousand feet of virgin ground to be explored.

NICHOLAS.

An ore house has been erected on the mine and the rich chloride ore is being hoisted and sorted preparatory to shipment. Work on the mine continues with the most flattering results. A few weeks more will get things so shaped that more rapid headway can be made.

EQUINOX.

This claim lies near the old San Diego smelter and is owned by Joe Bignon and partners. At a depth of thirty-five feet a ten-inch vein of rich chloride ore was struck which carries an abundance of horn silver and which will assay in the hundreds. The ledge is rapidly widening and all of the properties in this neighborhood are being relocated and worked.

GRAND CENTRAL COMPANY

Are working the Emerald with the same number of men, and the output is about the same. There being no prospecting done outside of that in the Silver Plume which is under bond, there is very little to report new or interesting. The Emerald, which is the bonanza mine, has an immense reserve ore body to work on, and the owners are not worrying themselves about finding anything more in a hurry.

BUNKER HILL.

A visit to this mine is worth one's while. So many changes have taken place during the past year on the properties of this company that one would scarcely recognize the location. The magnificent new hoist costing $60,000 presents a "come-to-stay" appearance which is in keeping with the underground workings of the properties, which are worked from the new double-compartment shaft. The output of ore is undiminished and the bodies of it in sight are, to the experienced eye, seemingly inexhaustible. In all probability Superintendent Coffman will induce his company to erect a smelting plant for the reduction of the ore before many weeks have rolled by.

LAST CHANCE.

In this end of the district the mines are looking well. The Sea Serp, Franklin, Menie and the claim of the Martin brothers, all adjacent claims, are being worked with most satisfactory results. The State of Maine, Brother Jonathan and State of Maine No. 2 are all looking well.

NOTES.

The T. M. & M. Co. have nothing new to report this week. All of the properties being worked are showing undiminished amount of ore in sight notwithstanding the fact that heavy shipments are being made regularly.

The Rainbow near the Bunker Hill will, it is rumored, soon start up. This is a splendid property.

DOS CABEZAS.

Since the bonding of the Juniper and other claims the camp has taken a start again. There are many valuable properties around this district which will pay to work with arrastras, and a large mill, say one hundred stamps, would be a paying proposition.

HARSHAW.

The mill being put up by Mr. Finley at Harshaw, says the Citizen, is about ready for action. Everything is in place but the boiler and that was shipped from Tucson several days ago. As soon as it arrives the mill will be started as soon as it can be put in place. The mill is something new in this country and the ore will be crushed by the roller process instead of with stamps.

There are three good paying mines at Harshaw from which ore has been shipped and there are many prospects that promise to develop into splendid properties.

WASHINGTON CAMP.

The sale of the Bonanza copper mine, owned by Mr. Hensley, has fallen through. There were three parties figuring on the purchase of this property—Mr. Cheyney, representing a Pittsburg company, Mr. John Weir, of this county, and Mr. Gooding, representing an English company. It seems that all agree that the mines are valuable and very desirable ones, but there seems to have been a clash in the interests of the purchasers that has resulted in the failure of either one to get the property.

The New Discovery.

This is the name of the mine formerly called the Head Center, now by the grace of Michael Perisich titled as above. The relocation of this valuable property was the talk of the town after the announcement was made in the columns of the PROSPECTOR on Thursday last that the mine had changed hands. Perisich says that the Head Center company have not done assessment work in three years on the mine, and that they have applied for a patent but have failed to otherwise fulfill the requirements of the law regarding the securing of a patent, and that he has just the same right to relocate the claim that the Head Center folks would have to relocate a claim of his on which he had not done assessment work. Others think that the relocation was instigated by those interested in the mine to depreciate the value of the stock. It will probably all come out in due time.

Take your job work to the PROSPECTOR office. Fine work a specialty. Prices low. Specimens of work on hand for inspection.

Miserable Service.

The mail service between Tombstone and Bisbee is a most miserable one as at present constituted, and although it is a saving to the government of a few hundred dollars over the former service by stage, the people have much cause for complaint. Up to the 15th of the present month the mail was carried by stage and made the round trip in one day, or in other words the writer of a letter to a customer in Bisbee could receive an answer the same day by return coach. Now, however, the mail that leaves Tombstone one day does not reach Bisbee till the following day at 2.30 p. m.; an answer to which will not reach Tombstone until noon the next day. Postmaster Clark of this city has laid the matter before the Postmaster General through Mark Smith, and our delegate to Congress has replied that he would remedy the evil as soon as possible.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY

How the Day Was Observed in Tombstone.

Yesterday was a most beautiful day and the town presented some of its old-time appearance.

The exercises at Schieffelin Hall were very interesting. The school children gathered around the doors at an early hour to be on hand when the doors opened. The presentation speech by Col. Herring was rendered in his usual style, adapted to the occasion and brought forth hearty applause from the crowded house. The four beautiful and expensive flags presented to the school were handed by Mr. A. L. Grow to the representatives from each room who had been chosen to receive them, after which the Principal, Mr. George McCall, responded on behalf of the scholars in a few well chosen words. Singing by Mrs. Harwood and recitations by the children helped to make the hour a pleasant one. Dr. Goodfellow, who was to have delivered an address, was called from the Hall by a message unexpectedly.

The ball given under the auspices of the order at Pavilion Hall in the evening was a grand success. The youth and beauty of the city were there. This was the second annual ball and reflects great credit upon the order and the committee of arrangements, who worked so diligently to make its success assured. The supper at the Maison Dore was, of course, in keeping with the balance of the arrangements and was one of Toquet's successful efforts.

The baseball game in the afternoon at the race track was largely attended and the crowd was well rewarded. The playing was spirited and exciting, the Huachuca boys winning by a score of 8 to 4. Stump and Thomas behind the bat and Hawk and McComas in the box for the Tombstone boys did excellent work. With a little more practice the home nine will make it warm for the soldier boys, who are a gentlemanly lot of fellows and play good ball.
